A CASE OF BIGAMY!

On the 13th of February last, Erasmus D. Haynes. formerly of Portsmouth, Virginia, was married near this City, to Miss Susan Ann, daughter of the late William H. Royster. The marriage was published the Raleigh papers-republished in the Portsmouth napers—and soon after information was conveyed to his place by letter, that Haynes had a wife in Portsmouth, and two or three children! On the 17th instant he left this place for Charleston, South Carolina, taking his last wife with him.

Havnes is a Cabinet-Maker by trade. He has been described to us as quite a small man, with a mild, pleasant, and intelligent countenance. His bair is a dark brown, and nearly black-his beard is and his eyes are blue or gray. He took some with him in his trunk.

It is hoped that the Police Officers out South will be on the alert for this scoundrel, and, if possible, arrest him. Such a crime as the one of which he has been guilty, deserves the heaviest punishment. And should the unfortunate girl become acquainted with her painful situation, and desire to return to her dismessed mother, Stage Contractors, Rail Road and Steamboat Agents, and others, will do a service to bunishity by giving her a free passage, and such other assistance as she may need.

BUILDING FOR THE DEAF AND DUMB. We understand that the corner stone of this building, now in progress of erection in this City, will be laid on the 14th of next month. Grand Master Collins, it will be seen by reference to a notice in this paper, has invited the Masons throughout the State to be present on the occasion; and we learn that an address will be delivered by the Rev. Samuel S. Brvant, of the Masonic Order.

On the night of the 14th the Annual Examination of the Deaf and Dumb scholars will take place in the Commons Hall, and an address is expected from H. P. Peat, Esq., President of the Institution for the Deaf and Dumb in New York. The Odd Fellows in this City have been invited to attend at night in full regalia, and they have invited their brethren in all portions of the State, to come up and unite with them in giving countenance and encouragement to the noble objects of the State in erecting this Institution.

We hope that as many Delegates to the State Convention as can conveniently do so, will come prepared to remain until after the 14th, as they will doubtless see and hear much to please and interest them.

ACCIDENT AT NEWARK. The New York Correspondent of the Washington Union, under date of March 21, says:

"The city was startled this morning by the report of a terrible accident on the usually safe and uneventful railroad route to Philadelphia. The drawbridge at Newark having been left open, and, it is said, the at full speed, head first, into the Passaic, burying the locomotive, tender, baggage car and half of the second class car in the river! The confusion and terror, as may be imagined, were extreme. In the first panic, many lives were supposed to be lost; but there is reason to hope since, that though many suffered serious injuries, none were killed. Mr. Van Buren was a passenger in the cars, but got out unhurt. The engineer escaped by clinging to an overhead, just as the train was going over! It is to be hope that there will be at once a rigid investigation, and the culpable parties, if any there are, exposed to the strongest public censure."

A gentleman of Raleigh, who was on the cars at the time, informs us that the passengers escaped with their lives by a hair's breadth. Fortunately the locomotive, tender, and baggage car broke loose from the passenger cars, but they were left almost hanging over the opening. A foot or two more, and they must also have gone down, with some three hundred passengers! The entire blame, it is said, justly attaches to the engineer.

WAKE COUNTY. We would most respectfully remind the Democrats of Wake County that the time at which they usually nominate their Candidates for the Legislature, is not far distant. We publish today the proceedings of a Meeting held on the 18th in Middle Creek District. Our friends in that District, it will be seen, recommend Tuesday of May Court as the day for the County Convention, and they have appointed ten Delegates to represent them. We hope their example will be promptly followed up by every District in the County. It is of the first importance to the cause that the nominations of the Convention should give general satisfaction to the party, and this object can be best secured by a large number of Delegates and a full representation from all the Districts. "A word to the wise is sufficient."

The "no-party" Taylor Mass Meeting which was neld in Baltimore on the 20th instant, was a palpable and ridiculous failure. Several speakers attempted to make themselves heard, and at length the Hon. Reverdy Johnson took the stand. He was greeted with the vilest epithets, and was hissed and yelled by The Clay men into silence. As he left the stand he said: "I came here to address Baltimoreans, but I find that blackguards have the sway." The Clayites all most emphatically condemned, as proceeding from prevailed, twenty to one-the lights were put out, and darkness and confusion reigned. The Meeting broke up without doing any thing useful to Whiggery or decent in itself. Taylorism is pretty well used up in the Northern States.

Louis Philippe's Abdication. The act of abdicaon, signed by the king of the French before leaving the Tuilleries, is, it is said, exceedingly laconic and conceived very nearly in these terms: "I abdicate to the hands of the French people, on the head of my grandson, the crown, which I have received com the French nation." Sozstates a Paris letter, n the French Courier, at New York.

The Richmond Enquirer of Saturday last says: We had the pleasure of seeing in the Northern Cars, 'esterday, Mr. Sevier, commissioner to Mexico. He ears the effects of his late indisposition. Westcott referhim to Jefferson's orders to Gaines, and Madison's to Governor Claiborne, both to take possession of the Perdido country then in dispute between this Government and Spain. Calhoun replied with a sneer that that region was so trifling as to attach no importance to the argument. "It can be covered with a blanket, Sir." Westcott rejoined, proving that the blanket-argument applied with far greater force to the territory between the Nueces and Rio Grande, which pinned Mr. Calhoun at all points. On Monday, in the Senate, an attempt was made to amend the deficiency bill by striking out the proposed Chargeship to Rome. Messrs. Badger and Mangum had the matter in hand. Cass and Dix opposed it. In so doing they completely exposed the baldness of Mr. Badger's sweeping assertions of the the large and growing class of Whig members, who were, to his apparent mortification, proved to be the ted, as the Glay-men have knocked into "pie" those as if they were all raw, there was such a soreness. creations of his own fancy. The universal Kingdom of Koondom is just now federalism, The expediency men in Congress hesitate not to declare that not a slave-holding State shall be represented in their National Convention, unless a majority of all the delegates shall be sure for the claims of Gen. Taylor on the Whig party. They further "make no bones" of announcing their fixed case they find themselves mistaken in the calculations of their strength, upon which they may go into convention. On the other hand, Conscience is by no means inclined to put up with any such determination on the part of its rival, which it very justly ac-cuses of contemplating bad faith. If bad faith is Expediency, has a perfect right to denounce this dis-Gen. Taylor, which, it is believed, is being privately circulated in Expediency circles. This is the lastthe very latest. This letter is thought to be working men of the House; that is, upon those who have more or less of his whoppers of this morning. made up their minds to go the old General at all hazards. A distinguished Southern Whig member now calculates that some fourteen Northern Whig Representatives are ready to stand with the General against the principle of Wilmot Provisoism, and to that end will vote against any proposition to apply it to terri-tory to be acquired under the treaty. Among the number are two from Massachusetts, Mr. Gott, of New York, five from Pennsylvania, &c. So you will perceive that Conscience has cause to kick up a dust. Expediency has of late been expecting that New England will throw a solid vote in Convention for the General. In return for it, it is understood that Expediency-proper will vote as unanimously for the nomination of Webster or Abbot Lawrence for the Vice Presidency. Lawrence, however, is decidedly its preference, as it is confidentially stated in political circles that he has lately expressed himself emphatically against the Proviso. If it be true, as announced to-day, that the Maine Federal Convention has intimated a decided preference for Clay, I think I may venture to prophecy that Expediency refuses to venture the National Convention. For it is well known that Ohio, New York and Pennsylvania will go in solid phalanx against Gen. Taylor. Indeed its hope of nominating the General hinged upon that of securing for him, through the influence of Webster and Lawrence, the undivided Conventional vote of New England.

Mr. Botts returned from his trip to Baltimore, on Saturday, and Expediency is on thorns to ascertain what passed there between Clay and his junior. B. however, is (for him) wonderfully close. Doubtless arrangements to complete the heading off of Taylorism were digested. In the meantime, Taylorism must be content to learn the plans of its rival through the demonstrations of the latter made after the fashion of Giddings and Root in Congress, and in the action of Federal Conventions-instructing for Clay. Thus ts eves are being opened, though slowly. Not an Expediency man has yet dared to dispute the dicta of Giddings and Root-that is, in the Hall; though in conversation they denounce what they term "Cor- is 30,000—an increase of 10,000 in upwards of seven winism" quite as vehemently as Root denounced Southern Whiggery. How the two wings are gnashing their teeth at each other! The vacancy in the Attorney Generalship occasoned by the absence of Mr. Clifford, will hardly be filled, I take it, as he contemplates returning to this city as soon as the fate of the treaty may be definite-

As above remarked, the proposed full mission to Rome received its quietus in the Senate on Tuesday, only thirteen Senators voting for the proposition to thus amend the deficiency bill of which it formed a clause. They were all Democrats of course. Mr. Allen in advocating the policy and propriety of creating the mission, delivered a very able speech, in which, after commenting on the liberalism of Pius IX, NEW HAMPSHIRE ELECTION. On Monday, the Secretary of War settled a case of much importance to the volunteers in service. It was that of the recruits for the Louisiana mounted battallion lately sent to the Castle, or in other words imprisoned by General Twiggs, for Tefusing to do duty as infantry, after ascertaining that they were not to be mounted. As the matter is the subject of general conversation to-day in military circles, I see no reason why I should not notice it here. > RICHMOND, March 25, 1848. Since the indignation meeting, held by the friends of Mr. Clay-a graphic description of which you have already copied from the Enquirer-there has been quite a calm in the political atmosphere, save Mr. Bott's burst of "thunder" from Washington. En passant, the said indignation meeting turned out to be one of the most brilliant serio-comic entertainments of the season; greatly surpassing, I but little doubt, any "hasty plate of soup" in richness of flavor, that you have heard of. Query: Will Mr. Botts be able to head the General; or will he leave it for the Democrats to do?

Tuesday last was the day selected for the obsequies of Mr. Adams. The morning opened beautifully, and a bright sin welcomed and cheered the hundreds who joined in the procession, and thousands who thronged the sidewalks. The different Military Companies, Associations of Odd Fellows, Divisions of Sons of Temperance, and citizens appropriately arranged, formed a procession of unusual length, which in time with music from several excellent bands, moved through the streets with banners furled and craped. On the arrival of the procession at the African Church, so vast was the assemblage that hundreds were left without being able to obtain ingress. The address was delivered by A. Judson Crane, Esq. and is said to have been very appropriate.

From the Columbus (Ga.) Enquirer, Feb. 8, 1848. WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY. We have an utter abhorrence for all kinds of puffs, and specially such as are calculated to mislead the public as the curative virtues of patent medicines. There are loubtless many catch-penny nostrums, daily vended and ourly used, which are not only of no value, but absolute y deleterious to the physical man. There are other balsams, extracts, &c., not embraced peradventure, in the pharmacetic arrangements of the apothecary or regular physician, that are, in certain cases, of more value than all the prescriptions of Galen put together. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry is admitted by the concurrent testimony of those who have proved its virtues to be of the latter class. In colds and consumption, asthma and chronic coughs, as well as in other kindred diseases, it has been used with almost universal success. In a climate changeable as this, superinducing and aggravating the family of diseases above alluded to, this medicine has a value not to be estimated.
